

Programme Learning Outcomes

Learning Outcomes for Degree programmes offered by the Faculty of Humanities

At the successful completion of the programme, the student will be able to,

Knowledge

1. Demonstrate an up-to-date knowledge and understanding in the fields of language, literature, performing and visual arts, aesthetics, and religious studies.

Skills

2. Engage in oral and written communication successfully equipped with skills of accurate interpretation, synthesizing information, logical thinking and understanding cultural diversity.
3. Demonstrate presentation skills and public speaking.
4. Demonstrate the ability to work creatively and capacity for innovation.
5. Demonstrate ICT literacy and the ability to analyze data and work within updated ICT cultures.

Attitudes, Values, Professionalism and Vision for life

6. Work independently to meet new challenges with confidence in both national and international workplace environments.
7. Work collaboratively in groups and teams, practicing cooperation and demonstrating leadership
8. Work with responsibility.
9. Work with environmental and conservation literacy, multicultural literacy, and humanitarianism
10. Engage in life-long learning

Mind-set and Paradigm

11. Demonstrate the ability to search updated information, and flexibility towards adaptation.

Learning Outcomes for Degree programmes offered by the Faculty of Social sciences

- 1) Identify real world economic/ political/cultural situations/ phenomena/ needs/ problems/ issues applying the core concepts, theories, principles, and practices relevant to the academic field/s of study.
- 2) Investigate and analyse those issues using a range of holistic approaches, interpreting the results paying due attention to environmental aspects and indigenous heritage, cultures, values and technologies and suggesting potential logical solutions;
- 3) Identify pertinent information needs, using appropriate media, tools, technologies and methodologies to locate, access information,
- 4) Critically evaluate the sources, values, validity and currency of information and use information effectively in a range of contexts in critical and creative manner to achieve desired goals;
- 5) Acquire and evaluate current information and process them independently through independent research and exercise critical judgment and critical thinking to create new modes/ dimensions of knowledge;
- 6) Communicate fluently, logically presenting facts in written and verbal forms in the mother tongue and satisfactorily in an international language to diverse groups of audiences;
- 7) Work independently to meet new challenges and working collaboratively in groups demonstrating team spirit, leadership qualities and organizational skills;
- 8) Work with confidence and determination in a self-disciplined and dedicated manner; managing time, personal and physical resources effectively employing professional and reflective approach to perform the assigned tasks;
- 9) Perceive and respond to changes in an adaptive and flexible manner from an informed and socially responsible point of view;
- 10) Engage in life-long learning in pursuit of personal development and excellence in professional practice
- 11) Behave harmoniously in a multi-ethnic and multi-religious society giving due care and respect to the values and beliefs of own and other cultures, diversity of human behaviour, views, human rights, social responsibilities, moral and ethical perspectives.